Mission Statement for the Peer Mentor Program

The Mission of the Williamson County Veterans Treatment Court Peer Mentor Program is to make certain to the best of our abilities that no veteran is left behind. The Program strives to ensure that every participating Veteran in the Veterans Treatment Court has a fellow Veteran that acts as a mentor, advocate, and ally.

Goals of the Peer Mentor Program

To act as an ally and friend, and help fellow Veterans successfully readjust to civilian life. To help our fellow veterans receive the services they need to reach their full potential as productive members of society and to help our fellow veterans navigate the court, treatment, and the VA system.

Program Description

The Williamson County Veterans Treatment Court relies on cooperation and collaboration among the criminal justice system, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, Veteran service organizations, and community treatment agencies to provide comprehensive treatment for Veterans. In addition to these entities, the Court also relies on Peer Mentors. Peer Mentors are veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces who volunteer their time to assist the Court, providing advice, personal experiences, recommendations, and guidance to Veterans. Many of our Peer Mentors are drawn from several Veteran's Service Organizations, the local community, and government organizations. Peer Mentors include, but are not limited to, those who have served in peacetime, Vietnam, Desert Shield/Storm, and combat operations in Iraq and Afghanistan.

By encouraging and empowering the Veteran to take the lead in solving their own problems, the Peer Mentor promotes and fosters a "can do" attitude in the Veteran, and the Veteran becomes motivated to accomplish his or her goals in treatment, feels that he or she is not alone, and knows that the mentor and the court team are there for them. Experience has shown that Veterans are more comfortable talking with and respond more favorably to other Veterans who have served and share similar experiences.

The conversation and interactions between the Peer Mentor and Veteran Participant are on the level of peers rather than from a position of authority. The change in demeanor of the Veteran Participant becomes an opportunity to make a profound impact on the Veterans who enter the Court. Based on our and other courts' observations, it has become clear that Peer Mentors are a critical part of the Williamson County Veterans Treatment Court. The active and supportive relationships maintained throughout treatment increase the likelihood that a Veteran will remain in treatment and improve their chances of maintaining sobriety and law-abiding behavior.

Peer Mentor Duties

The Veteran Mentor acts as a coach, guide, role model, and advocate, who provides support for the veteran during the treatment program. This includes listening to the concerns of the veteran and making general suggestions, assisting the veteran to determine needs, and acting as a sounding board for the Veteran, especially when the Veteran may feel isolated.

The Veteran Mentor is not a therapist, counselor, treatment provider, legal advisor, probation officer or judge. It is important to stay between the lines. The mentor does not attend probation and treatment coordinator meetings, due to privacy rules and regulations.

The conversation and interaction between veteran and mentor are on the peer-to-peer level rather than one person possessing authority over another. The veteran's change of demeanor presents an opportunity for positive change while the treatment program progresses. Active and supportive relationships, maintained throughout treatment, will increase the likelihood that a Veteran will remain in treatment, and improve the chances of sobriety and law-abiding behavior.

The following are basic duties of the Veteran Mentor:

- a. Attend court sessions when scheduled. The mentor stands with the veteran during court appearances. The mentor does not speak for the veteran in Court.
- b. Training is crucial and necessary for Veteran Mentors. All prospective mentors must complete required initial training, or they will not be permitted to mentor during Docket proceedings.
- c. Participate in and lead mentoring sessions with the veteran. Meet with the veteran participant once a week and/or schedule a Zoom chat between court appearances.
- d. Be supportive and understanding of the difficulties other veterans are facing.
- e. Assist veterans as much as possible to resolve their concerns about the Court procedures.
- f. Assist veterans to access and navigate the Veterans Affairs system.
- g. Be supportive and helpful to other veteran mentors.
- h. Be an active listener and empathetic.
- i. Be tolerant and respectful of individual differences.
- j. Have thorough knowledge of community resources and services (the Court staff

- is a good source of knowledge for resources).
- k. Maintain required records of mentoring contacts and sessions.
 - l. Be aware of and maintain required privacy and confidentiality. VETERAN MENTOR PROGRAM confidentiality is an essential part of successful mentoring. Veterans need to know their sessions with a mentor are highly secure and confidential and are not shared with the judicial system.

Mentor & Resource Coordinator Duties and Responsibilities

- ★ Organize and conduct training for Mentors
- ★ Assist in supervision of Mentors
- ★ Assist in developing specialized training projects
- ★ Collaborate with Specialty Court Program Coordinator and Judge
- ★ Sustain and evolve the Mentor Program

The Mentor Coordinator is a very important part of the WCVTC team, especially since all the Mentors have such close interaction with the veteran participants in the WCVTC program. This individual should be both a senior Mentor and a trusted member of the WCVTC team.

Knowledge of a Prospective Mentor's Negative History

Current Mentors with knowledge that a prospective Mentor has a negative history and/or background must communicate his or her knowledge or concerns to the Veteran Mentor Coordinator, the Specialty Court Program Coordinator, or the Judge. Because of the direct impact a Mentor has on a veteran participant, behaviors that are not aligned with the mission, vision, goals, and values of the Veterans Treatment Court are unacceptable and prohibited.

Courtroom Etiquette and Proper Attire

A courtroom is a solemn place which represents the judicial branch of government, and a judge demands respect, whether it's federal, state, or local. The prosecution represents either the city or state prosecuting the veteran and they too should be treated with reverence and respect. This applies to both the Mentor and the WCVTC veteran participant. All members of the WCVTC Team, to include the Mentor, will be treated with the utmost respect.

Any WCVTC participant appearing before the court shall have the responsibility to act and speak to the Judge and all that are involved as representatives of the court with respect. In addition, the WCVTC veteran participant should have respect for the courtroom process. When in court, it is suggested that the Mentor advise the WCVTC veteran participant of the following:

- ★ Arrive early and prepared.
- ★ Be honest, lying only leads to more problems.
- ★ Dress appropriately for court.
- ★ Address the Judge as “Your Honor”.
